Hi

I've posted the latest Gryphon/Jackalope KiCAD files in a zip file previously in this thread. You are welcome to upload them to the github repository if you'd like but that line of development (Gryphon/Jackalope) is dead so there is not much benefit other than from an historical archive perspective. Maybe someone will pick it up again in the future? I hope so.

It's a good source of reusable components if nothing else
