I'm working on downsizing for an approaching move and part of that is cleaning out most of my Retrobrew systems. The following are built and working: SBC Z180 Mark IV, KISS 68030, Tiny 86k, Zeta w/ peripheral board. There are also a couple ECB backplanes, a Propeller ECB, and some other peripheral boards. Also a ton of parts, some power supplies, and various cables.

I'd like to just pass all of this on to someone that would use them instead of just sitting in storage when I move.

$50 via PayPal to cover some of the more expensive components and flat-rate shipping and you can have it all. You can PM me here at the forum and I'll get back to you.

I understand that notifications from the board are broken, so if OP is waiting for a notification that people have PMed him or posted in his thread, it may be awhile til he notices.

OP was last here July 20 so he wouldn't have seen any of the responses yet.

OP hasn't been here since Sat, 18 July 2020 so hasn't seen any of the responses yet.

(Whoops, strange double post. The previous message didn't look like it posted but appeared after I posted this one. Can't see that I can delete a message)

I made a deal with the OP and have already received the boards.
